This Clarification #1 provides the answers to questions posed.

Q.1. Specification section 1.11.1 references emergency response by “trained and authorized technicians ... ready to inspect, evaluate and repair any faulty equipment etc.”

Specification section 1.11.5 references “Contractor shall have in-house capability to provide additions and modifications to the system ... appropriate software required to modify programming etc.”

Is it a requirement of this specification that the bidder shall be an authorized Notifier Engineered Systems Distributor directly employing factory certified technicians holding valid certifications?

Is proof of same required to be submitted with the bid package?

A.1. Section 1.3 of the Technical Specifications explains the requirements for the Service Personnel including certification, licenses, and training. There is no specific language in the Technical Specification requiring “The bidder shall be an authorized Notifier Engineered Systems Distributor”
